YOUNG SCIENTIST AWARD

In conjunction with the
256th National Meeting & Exposition
American Chemical Society
August 19-23, 2018
Boston, MA

This competition is sponsored by the Agricultural and Food Chemistry Division (AGFD) of the American Chemical Society (ACS). This competition is designed by the AGFD to showcase the research talents of an outstanding young scientist in the fields of study encompassed by the Division.

Participation in the competition is open to all young scientists who have earned their last degree within 12 years of October 1st of the year of presentation. The awardee will be invited to give an oral presentation of their research at the 256th ACS Meeting in Boston, MA on August 19-23, 2018.

The awardee will receive travel expenses up to $1000 to attend and present their research at the fall meeting of the ACS, along with a cash award of $1000. The AGFD board of judges will choose the young scientist who will participate in the symposium.

Applications are being accepted from young scientists or nominations may be made by colleagues. To be considered, please submit the following items (by e-mail):

1. Application letter or letter of nomination
2. Two letters of recommendation
3. Two page summary of the research of significance
